

Introduction of Guests:

In 1957, the Senate adopted an amendment to Senate Rule XIX to prohibit the introduction of, or reference to, any guests in the galleries, and provided that the rule might not be suspended even by unanimous consent.¹²

GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT

See also "Gentleman's Agreement To Postpone," p. 1000.

A so-called gentlemen's agreement concerning debate is not legally enforceable and has no parliamentary standing.¹

¹² Aug. 26, 1957, 85-1, Journal, pp. 526-27, Record, p. 15913; see Sept. 23, 1970, 91-2, Record, p. 33408; May 16, 1968, 90-2, Record, p. 13645.

¹ See Apr. 23, 1936, 74-2, Journal, p. 238; Nov. 20, 1942, 77-2, Record, pp. 9023-29.